For some of
your patients,
this list could be
a life saver.

This list of symptoms is being featured in a print ad as part of the National Mental Health Association's (NMHA) National Public Education Campaign on Clinical Depression. The campaign communicates these basic messages: Clinical depression is a medical illness. Effective treatments are available. See a doctor. A free booklet on clinical depression is available by calling NMHA at 1-800-228-1114.

The National Public Education Campaign on Clinical Depression is being co-sponsored by the American Medical Association along with nine other national professional health and mental health associations.
